

Homerton University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust

The Homerton University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust began working with and using the services of Martin Williams, Decon Solutions Ltd in the autumn of 2007.

Decon Solutions were able to support the Trust in writing, implementing and auditing Decontamination policies, enabling the Endoscopy department to meet their JAG requirements and allowing the Trust to satisfy the standards set by CQC during their visits.

Decon solutions have also supported the Trust with staff decontamination training on site.

The Homerton recently undertook an OJEU tender for the supply of an on-site decontamination and sterilisation process, the tender was written and supported by Decon solutions, which culminated in a very successful partnership with a Global Sterilisation supplier.

Whilst Decon Solutions Ltd have been working at the Homerton , Mr Williams has been the Trusts designated lead for decontamination, he is currently supporting the Trust in setting and reaching the Standards set out within the Health Technical Memorandum (HTM) as Essential Quality Requirements (EQR).
